

Breaking the lines and creating the loops: Reworking business models

◆ Why do you want to create a new network?

◆ Who are the key stakeholders you would you need to work with to make this happen?

◆ Map your current value chain, then
◆ Reimagine how you could turn this into a network
What new flows of value are required? What new skills are needed?

◆ What could you do to explore the feasibility of this new network?

◆ How can you prototype or experiment to make the new network real?
