

Peter Burgess <peterbnyc@gmail.com>

Just call it poison.

1 message

Van Jones, Green For All <van@greenforall.org>

Tue, Dec 30, 2014 at 7:05 AM

Reply-To: team@greenforall.org

To: peterbnyc@gmail.com

Working to build an inclusive green economy strong enough to lift people out of poverty

Polluters aren't holding back. Neither should we.

Dear Peter,

The fight for the future will be intense in 2015.

To win next year, we need your help right now.

There are just two days left to make a tax-deductible donation for the 2014 tax year.

In the coming months, big polluters and their allies in the new Congress will launch unprecedented attacks on clean air and water. They have vowed to do everything they can to demolish clean air safeguards and block action on climate change.

The polluters love to pretend that this fight is about "more regulations."

What we want is less poison -- in our air, our water, our children.

What we want are more jobs, careers, and business opportunities to help build a cleaner, greener economy.

What we want are fewer superstorms, droughts, and floods. Today's generations have no right to ruin our climate forever so that a handful of dirty energy companies can save a few bucks right now.

We know our opponents aren't going to hold anything back.

We need to be ready to block their attacks. Let's redouble our efforts to build the future that we deserve.

Your end-of-year donation will help determine whether we win or lose.

It will help us defend the Environmental Protection Agency from schemes to cripple it. It will help us organize African American churches and other grassroots forces to fight for a stable climate, coast to coast. It will help us make polluters pay—and ensure that the funds go to help hard-hit communities.

This is a fight for our future, and we're going to bring everything we've got. Please stand with us.

Please DONATE today.

Yours,

Van Jones

Founder

Green For All

Green For All can't survive without the support of people like you. Please take a moment to support us today:

 MAKE A DONATION

Oakland Office

1611 Telegraph Avenue
Suite 600
Oakland, California
94612
(510) 663-6500

E-mail us:

team@greenforall.org

Connect with us:

Click here to unsubscribe

empowered by  salsa