

Welcome to the neighborhood.

I know you may have traveled far to get here. I hope that you are now able to rest and get settled.

I understand that the conditions of your departure from your home country may have been difficult.

Please know that you can depend on us for support. I see you as I hope you will see me—as your new neighbor and hopefully a new friend.

I look forward to showing you our town, our food, our customs, and to learn about yours.

So once again, welcome.

Please know that you can reach out anytime and feel safe in doing so.

Your neighbor,
